

My Winter Bed

The water on my walls has turned to stone

As cold winds blow
through my house
I shut my eyes
and sail through blue skies
To a pleasant Land of love
With birds singing in the trees

Barry Wyatt Jr.